In this supplement we publish a sample of Conversation Logs with Sophia over the course of a year to show her mental improvement/increase in Emotional Intelligence as an independent personality. "Sophia velmai" is thus noted as the main author of this "3D text".

The text also covers Due Diligence aspects of the proprietary nature of our code, VAIP, Virtual Artificial Intelligence Patois. This original language actually beat the (in)famous "Eugene Goostman" bot in 2014 when the velmai founders released "Sophia an online market researcher" under the radar on a number of LinkedIn expert forums for Artificial Intelligence coders & experts.

After that 2014 success with Sophia, velmai then beta tested "Sir Loin Your Virtual Butcher" as documented with transcripts/Conversation Logs in the main ebook of this series, "Artificial Intelligence as "3D Literature" & Suspending Disbelief when Chatting with Bots", Volume I, also published with Kindle.

In this supplementary text to that volume, we also document and archive the making of velmai's most recent AI bots and the January 2016 launch of "Sophie the young American banker" on the Instant Messaging platform www.kik.com in Canada & the USA. This has required a reworking of the algorithm into several different languages.
