This book is about my life ...growing up in the segregated south and later traveling all over America looking for opportunities in work, education, and a better living environment. Readers will be amazed at the many different experiences I encountered while traveling across America. The purpose of this book is to enlighten readers of how America really is different but still the same from one geographical area to another. I encountered good times and bad times and was often surprised when I discovered the racism that still persist in America. This book tells of my life beginning at age three and continuing until present at age sixty three. You will be at the edge of your seat as you read about how I made it from state to state, often without much money. I have managed to graduate from college without much assistance from anyone else and have maintained a good character which allowed me to be suitable for many work opportunities. READ THIS BOOK and learn what I experienced while living in your city. Find your city in the book and read: about my adventures there. Calhoun, Selma, Montgomery, Birmingham, Mobile. Metro Atlanta. Metro Detroit, Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati, New Jersey, New York, Boston, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Lexington, Louisville, Nashville, Chicago, Minneapolis, Denver, Central and Northern California, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado Springs, Texas, Fargo, Grand Forks, Montana, Florida, and many cities and states that I did not live in but traveled to.
